Re: Cornet, et al. v. Twitter, Inc., C.A. No. 1:23-cv-00441-CFC

Dear Judge Connolly:

I am writing to bring to your attention an issue that we recently discovered (in preparing Plaintiffs' opposition to Twitter's motion to dismiss) that we thought we should make you aware of, in considering whether it would be appropriate for you to remain assigned to this case.

One of the cases that Twitter relies on in its motion, Johnson v. Organo Gold Int'l, Inc., 2016 WL 2771124 (D. Del. May 13, 2016), was a case in which you represented the defendant and for which you co-counseled with Jody C. Barillare, who is Twitter's local counsel in this case.

We wanted to raise this issue at the outset of this matter, before any substantive decisions have been made, so that you may determine whether recusal may be appropriate. As you likely know, Twitter is represented in this case by your former law firm, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP. While we understand that (after two years after taking the bench) you have remained on cases in which Morgan Lewis represents a party, we thought we should point out to you that Twitter has relied on a case in which you co-counseled with one of its counsel in its motion to dismiss.
